NOBILITY OF TREES.

A Tribute to the Majesty of the Mighty Oak.

Directly in my path stood an ancient swamp white oak, the greatest tree, I think, that I have ever seen. It was not the highest nor the largest round, perhaps, but individually, spiritually, the greatest. Hoary, hollow and broken limbed, his huge bole seemed encircled with the centuries, and in this green and grizzled top all the winds of heaven had some time come.

One could worship in the presence of such a tree as easily as in the shadow of a vast cathedral. Indeed, what is there built with hands that has the dignity, the majesty, the dignity, of life? And what life was here! Life whose beginnings lay so far back that I could no more reckon the years than I could count the atoms it had builded into this majestic form.

Looking down upon him from twice his height loomed a tulip poplar, clean, bolled for thirty feet and in the top all green and gold with blossoms. It was a resplendent thing beside the oak, yet how unmistakably the gnarled old monarch wore the crown! His girth more than balanced the poplar's great height, and, as for blossoms, nature knows the beauty of strength and inward majesty and has pinned no boutonniere upon the oak.—Dallas Lore Sharp in National Magazine.

CAUGHT BY THE CRY.

The Way an Australian Bandit Was Trapped In London.

"Coo-e-e" is the curious cry that was one of the signals of the native blacks of Australia. The cry was speedily adopted by the invading whites. The final "e" is a very high note, a sort of prolonged screech that resounds for long distances through the bush and thus enables separated persons to ascertain their relative positions. On one notable occasion this peculiar cry was heard in London. A daring bushranger made his appearance one morning in front of a bank in Ballarat and coolly posted a notice on the door to the effect that the place would be closed for an hour.

Entering, he terrorized the officials with his revolver and got clear away with $30,000. Some time afterward the authorities received information that the man had been seen in London. One day a detective thought he espied his man in the Strand; but, not being quite sure, he hit upon an expedient. He uttered a piercing "Coo-e-e."

Passersby stood fixed in astonishment, but the Australian, acting on the spur of the moment and recognizing the familiar sound, hastened to the person who uttered it. He was promptly arrested and was taken back to Australia.—Chicago News.

A Continuous Round.

"Blivens seems very proud of the fact that he has a bank account."

"Yes; it has developed him into a financier of the continuous type."

"How is that?"

"He checks his money out just for the pleasure of putting it back again."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A "Practical" Wedding Gift.

Pearl—Oh, we had a delightful wedding and received so many silver presents. Ruby—That was fine. And did your father give something in silver too? Pearl—No; he gave us a bottle of acid to test the other presents with.—Chicago News.

It doesn't take any grit to grumble.—Chicago Tribune.

QUEER JAPAN.

A Land Where Laughter Has No Relation to Pleasure.

In "More Queer Things About Japan" Douglas Sladen says: "Perhaps one of the severest of etiquettes in Japan is that of smiles. When you have lived in that land of smiles you will learn in time that when you can understand a Japanese smile you may hope to understand the people. A daughter-in-law must always present a smiling face to her mother-in-law; the servant must smile when his mistress dismisses him. But the news of a death must be told with laughter. Laughter is reserved for very special occasions and has no relation to joy. Smiles are used on every occasion to conceal real feelings. They are not always significant of pleasure.

"No wants has the Japanese," the same writer continues. "He can live in his clothes without a tent, he can live on rice or offal of the sea, and he is so accustomed to carrying heavy weights and running long distances that he can be his own commissariat and even his own horse."

If the Japanese are somewhat lax as regards their religion, they are at any rate believers in cleanliness. The writer says: "Personal cleanliness is a virtue which all Japanese servants possess. It is no unusual thing for a Japanese servant to apologize to a mistress for not having had time to bathe more than three times that day."

SERVANTS IN ENGLAND.

The Case of Muggins, Who Wished She Were Dead.

The terrors of etiquette below stairs! There once strayed into my employ a housemaid whose career hitherto had been confined to lodging houses. Upstairs she always looked frightened, and her face had a great attraction for "smuts," but she was very willing and very competent.

"It is not for me to ask madam to send Muggins away, but the rest of us will go if Muggins stays. I don't know where she has lived out before, but she drinks out of her saucer and does not even know that we expect her to be down in our sitting room at half past 4 dressed in her black and ready to pour out the servants' tea." Of course I gave Muggins notice, recognizing that the lodging house was her proper sphere, and in the month that followed I knew she suffered martyrdom. She used to wipe her eyes stealthily, and as she was not proud I showed her some sympathy.

"They ain't nice to me downstairs like you are, ma'am," she sobbed, "though I'm doing my best. Cook says she won't wipe up the dishes for the likes of me."

"Never mind, Muggins. You'll be going soon, and, after all, you have learned a good deal here," I consoled her.

"I wish," said Muggins, "I was dead."—Mrs. John Lane in Harper's Bazar.

First Love.

It is a popular fallacy that the first love is the true one, unique in its excellence, says an exchange. As well say that the first picture of a painter is the best of all he will paint in the course of his life; that the first speech, the first book, the first statue, the first composition, will be the best of the statesman, novelist, sculptor or musician, as the case may be. First works have all the imperfections of uncertainty, of inexperience and ignorance. And it is rather by chance than by anything inherent in the nature of Cupid's ways that the first love turns out to be the great one.

ORIGIN OF WHIST.

The Game Was First Called Triumph and Afterward Trump.

Whist was first called triumph, a name which was afterward corrupted into trump. The eighteenth century saw whist in its primitive form, the whole object of the game being to win tricks by leading high cards or by trumping. Then came the era of Hoyle, which may be said to have lasted from 1730 to 1860 and taught players to think not only of their own hands, but of the other hands also, and to take advantage of the positions of the cards in them. Hoyle also taught that trumps might be more profitably employed than in simple trumping and showed that they might be used to disarm the adversary and to obtain secondary advantage in trick making by other suits of less apparent power. It was not until 1860 that the philosophical era can be said to have begun, and the origin of the new movement was a knot of young men at Cambridge, England, known as the Little Whist school. This body kept records of its games, but no one thought of making the data known until 1861. Coherence in the system of play was still wanting, and this was supplied in 1864 with Dr. Pole's essay on the theory of the modern scientific whist.

THE ART OF EATING.

Food Must Please the Mind as Well as the Palate.

Pawlow has established the physiological importance of the mental state on digestion, having shown, for instance, that delicacies produce secretion of gastric juice as soon as they are perceived by the eye, even before they are eaten.

The food must not only be palatable, but must be served in an attractive manner—fine dishes, table decorations, etc.

In eating we must take time to chew our food thoroughly. This serves a double purpose—first, through the act of mastication the coarser particles of food are broken up; second, more saliva is secreted and is thoroughly mixed with the food. The digestion of starch is thus materially aided, and the proteids are made more easily accessible to the action of the gastric juice.

Water should accompany each meal. It increases the appetite and the enjoyment of food.

After eating we should rest a little while before returning to our work.—Dr. Max Einhorn in Medical Record.

A DIFFICULT PENANCE.

Irish Pilgrims to the Skellig Rocks Risk Their Lives.

Ten miles off the coast of Kerry, in the west of Ireland, lie the Skellig rocks, one of which has been for years the scene of a difficult penance. A zigzag path leads up some 700 feet to a lighthouse, but 700 feet more must be climbed before the summit is reached, where stand the ruins of St. Finian's monastery and a cross of St. Michael.

Here on the anniversary of St. Michael devotees risk their lives in performing their devotions. First they have to squeeze themselves through the Needle's Eye, a tunnel in the rock thirteen feet long, the passing up which is like the ascent of a chimney. Then they creep on all fours up the Stone of Pain, on whose smooth surface one false step is fatal; then, getting astride the Spindle, a rock 1,500 feet above the Atlantic and projecting some ten feet, each pilgrim must "ride a cock horse to St. Michael's cross," say a Paternoster and shuffle back as best he can.—Pearson's Weekly.

How to Read.

Reading is not a lost art to the same degree that conversation is, but it has in most cases an arrested development through so much reading that makes no demand upon aesthetic sensibility, so that one is apt to bring to a fine story full of delicate shades of thought and feeling the same mind which he yields to a newspaper, putting a blunt interrogation as to its meaning as conveyed in the terms of a rational proposition, and the writer's charm is wholly lost upon him. While the reader's surrender to the author must be complete, his attitude should not be passive, but that of active responsiveness and partnership.—H. M. Alden in Harper's

THEY WANT TO MONOPOLIZE THE WILD GAME.

One purpose runs through all the bills before the Legislature ostensibly to better protect fish and game, and that purpose is clearly to prevent the general public from buying or hunting game that the so-called sportsmen's clubs can have an undisturbed monopoly. The waters are to be stocked with fish at the public expense, and the game preserved at the public expense, but the public's interest in the matter is supposed to end with footing the bills. Not much. No such unfair medieval class legislation will go down in this State. The Legislature may enact foolish and unjust laws but they will not be obeyed. Shooting a bird or a rabbit to grace one's table is a different thing from committing some public or private wrong, and game laws that revive the period in English history when a pheasant was more highly regarded than the liberty of a peasant will be defied and spat upon by the people of California.

The Hepburn bill, the Esch-Townsend bill and several others are said to have been approved by the Administration. It is a wise President who knows his own railroad rate measure.

The man who offers a legislator a chew of tobacco is now an object of suspicion in Sacramento. Whether this will work a great reform is yet to be demonstrated

The Illinois representative who charged his fellow members with grafting was expelled from the house by them. Self-defense is a natural right.

Incidentally, Andrew Carnegie's establishment of nearly 1300 libraries has added 1300 copies to the guaranteed sale of every important book.

Henceforth the average legislator will be apt to regard the man with a "package" to hand out as an enemy of the public peace.

We are now warned against germs in the napkins and table linen. It is about time for some authority to find microbes on the canary.

ENGLISH GRAND OPERA.

The Henry W. Savage Company Is Coming To This Coast.

Musical lovers of San Francisco and surrounding cities will have the unusual opportunity during the three weeks beginning February 27th, of hearing the Henry W. Savage English Grand Opera Company, which gives a festival at the Columbia Theater, and will during this time sing a brilliant repertory of the great masterpieces in the mother tongue. This will be the most pretentious musical event of the season and it will also mark the premiere of this famous organization on the Pacific Coast, Mr. Savage bringing out his company of 150 people and their full grand opera orchestra of 45 men, together with the entire complement of the production of each of the operas.

During the nine years of its existence the Henry W. Savage Company has become one of the most notable organizations in the East and the name of its present manager and proprietor, Henry W. Savage, has become favorably and well known in every conservatory and music loving center throughout the territory where his company has annually presented a brilliant repertory of operas in English. Mr. Savage has never undertaken to send the Grand Opera Company west of the Mississippi river until this year, when he carefully planned a tour of more than 10,000 miles through the United States and Canada, playing 67 cities and embracing territory on both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. The magnitude of this undertaking can be better realized when it is said that a special train of fourteen cars is necessary for the transportation of the company and its immense scenic equipment.

MAJESTIC THEATER.

Again, yielding to a popular demand, "Mizpah" will be offered for a third and positively the last week at the Majestic Theater, San Francisco, commencing with next Monday night. The production will be presented by the cast that gave the beautiful poetical drama its original creation at the Majestic Theater and includes J. H. Gilmour who has been termed the American Henry Irving and Adele Block especially retained for the role of Esther. It is almost unnecessary to draw attention to the fact that "Mizpah" has scored the most phenomenal successes of the modern stage. Its success here has furthermore aroused the interest of other centers and the authors Ella Wheeler Wilcox and Luscombe Searelle have received offers from London, New York and Melbourne managers for an immediate production of the drama in those cities. Sir Henry Irving will present Mizpah in London and negotiations have been closed with Charles Frohman for an early New York production. It is a matter of gratification to know that a play which had its initial offering at the Majestic in this city has attained such world wide eminence. Positively next week will be the last opportunity to local theatre-goers to witness this great masterpiece of the 20th Century drama.

CENTRAL THEATER.

One of the most difficult attempts in reproducing mechanical effects on the stage to-day lies in the fact that nothing of a heavy nature can be used such as solid bars of steel or long wooden timbers and it is a source of much wonderment ta many to see a steamboat or a locomotive used on the stage at the Central. In the production to be given next Monday there is a locomotive that has for ten years stood the test of hundreds of unsuccessful imitators. Arthur Fessler who wrote "A Ride for Life" which is the Central's next offering, is admitted to be one of the greatest mechanical inventors of the day and it was this genius combined with a literary ability that produced the most sensational comedy drama that has ever been offered on any stage for years. In one act he combines all the elements that go to make a play a success and he gives positively the most startling scenic effect ever witnessed on any stage. The engine carrying the hero is forced through a seething mass of fire. The wheels are seen to revolve, the sparks fly, the steam is escaping, and to all pretenses the engine is flying at full speed. It is a scenic delusion that will never be forgotten by those who are fortunate to witness the production. The cast will induce all the favorites of the Central besides new people who come with an excellent eastern reputation.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The engagement of "Mother Goose" began at the Grand Opera House, San Francisco, last Monday night. As a spectacular "Mother Goose" is the most gorgeous in color and movement yet produced, and when its beauties were flashed on the startled gaze of a Frisco audience for the first time, even the oldest timer caught his breath, and exclaimed, "Great!" For brilliancy, exquisite coloring and rapid movement the affair has a kaleidoscopic effect. From the point of view of the spectator, who has no time to count or calculate, ten thousand people are engaged in this production, and wear half that many different costumes during the evening. Of course, this is merely an impression, but it gives an idea of the effects produced. It is an eye intoxicant, and a strong one at that. So rapidly does the change of scene and costumes follow one another, one cannot hope to keep track of them. He only knows that the last was the most splendid of all, that the next must logically be more dazzling still.

After the comedians, whose fun starts with the rise of the curtain, and is kept up at a terrific gate until its final fall, the girls needless say, are the most interesting. They are good to look at. Their costumes are the most variegated and elaborate that ingenuity could conceive; but they are in good taste, and they fit into the scenery as the moon fits in a night in June. They come in octatettes, in dozens, in scores, in hundreds. They are unusual girls, too, for some of them can act, all of them can sing, and nearly all of them can stand still and look pretty, which is of itself a valuable accomplishment in a chorus girl.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troublesr that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guarteed by P. A. Ryan, druggist, Redwood City.

Adolph Plump, the local artist, has ornamented the big mirror at the Alhambra bar with the painting of a fire scene. The central figure is a Redwood City fireman of Company No. 3 who is extinguishing a burning building. The inspiration for this work was without doubt the masquerade ball which will be given to-night by Hose Company 3.

Louis Bevetz, a currier at Frank's Tannery, received a knockout blow at the tannery Thursday morning which put him out of commission for the rest of the day. At about 6:50 a. m. while waiting for the whistle to blow Bevetz and William Williamson were indulging in a game of tag in which Williamson was "it". In attempting a kangaroo jump over several rolls of leather Bevetz struck his head against a rafter and was rendered unconscious for nearly an hour. Restoratives were applied which finally brought him around and he was taken home. It will be several days before he has entirely recovered from the collision.

Changes In the Schools.

Several changes in the schools of the county are noted as the different district schools are opening the spring terms. In Sunnyside Miss Helen Winchester of Berkeley will wield the rod. Miss Vincent, whom she succeeds, was married shortly after the close of school last term. At San Gregorio a new teacher will be selected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Anita Hermes. Miss Hermes was married shortly after the close of school and has gone to Germany to reside. At Colma, Miss Annie Christenson of Napa has been selected to fill the position of Mrs. H. Albrecht, formerly Miss Rose Schubert. The resignations of the above named ladies shows that there is some chance for a school teacher after all.

A Dairyman Sued.

At the conclusion of the first half of the contest the score was 2 to 2 but in the second half Stanford brought forth a new team and made six points, defeating Sequoia by a score of 8 to 3. It undoubtedly was Sequoia's game had not fresh players came to the relief of the Roble Hall girls.

Chapped hands and face, red blotches and eruptions, prevented by using Rose and Cucumber Jelly (Curosa Cream).

OUR WATER FRONT.

Redwood City's Superior Advantages on the Bay Shore.

Redwood City has the best and most available water front on San Francisco Bay. This is a broad assertion, but to prove it one has but to study the coast survey map of San Francisco Bay. At Baden, where the big plants of the Western Meat Co., Steiger Terra Cotta Works, Fuller Paint Works and others are located, there is barely water enough to float light draft bay craft, and even then the channel has to be constantly dredged.

The south end of the bay is the most advantageous for manufacturing plants, as the strong currents and rough navigation in front of the Golden Gate are avoided. In this connection Mr. Alfred Greenebaum, manager of the Alaska Codfish Co., whose big plant has been recently established on Redwood creek, says:

"When the enlargement of the dry-dock at Hunters' Point made it necessary for the company I represent to leave there, I began to search for a location convenient to San Francisco that would accommodate our deep draft vessels. I went in launches from one end of the bay to other. North of San Francisco I found two locations that might answer, but they were bad to get to on account of having to cross the Golden Gate, and the prices ranged from $300 TO $1000 PER FRONT FOOT. The Government paid for the Lynde & Haugh location near Tiburon $80,000, and I do not consider it as good as the one we now have on Redwood creek. The prices at which we bought were absurdly low, but I did not consider it my business at that time to so advise the sellers. We have about 300 front feet more water front than our present wants, which we value at $30,000. This price will seem high now, bu it won't in the near future. The convenience to San Francisco, the deep channel that requires no dredging, the fine shelter from storms, and the soft bottom for laying up vessels in winter, are advantages that are possessed by no other location."

The history of New York and other deep water cities is that the manufactures like to get away from the city far enough to avoid the heavy expenses, taxes, fire insurance, rents, etc., and where their employes will be less troubled with labor unions, and can live more cheaply and comfortably than in the great cities. Redwood City possesses all these advantages, and it is only required to awaken her to the fact, that she may reap the resultant benefits.

Married At San Rafael.

Miss Olive Joyce, daughter of F. B. Joyce, was married in San Rafael the first of last week to Harry Joyce of this city. Mrs. Joyce is a handsome young woman, and passed her early life here. Since the death of her mother, which occurred in 1897, she has made her home in San Francisco, but has been a local visitor frequently. Mr. Joyce is an employe of the Southern Pacific Co. in the auditing department at Fourth and Townsend streets, San Francisco. For the past year he has lived in Redwood with his parents, who reside in the Shroeder tract. Mr. and Mrs. Joyce will make their home in San Francisco.

Another School House.

A big petition has been sent to Superintendent of Schools Miss Tilton by the tax-payers of Burlingame asking that that place be added to the San Mateo school district. At present Burlingame is in the Millbrae district. As matters stand now the children of Burlingame go to the San Mateo school which is in an overcrowded condition. It is understood that the Millbrae trustees are willing that the change should take place. If the transfer is made San Mateo will be bonded and a new eight-room schoolhouse will be built at Burlingame.

Case Transferred.

Judge Buck made an order yesterday transferring the suit of Annie F. Morrow against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company to the United States Circuit Court. The action was commenced in this county by plaintiff to recover $15,875 in damages for injuries received by falling into a culvert at Beresford when the company was constructing its double track system. The transfer was made for the reason that the parties to the action are citizens of different States. P. F. Dunn and G. W. Durbrow are the attorneys for the railroad company.

For Benefit of School.

Cyrus Brownlee Newton, one of the greatest humorists of our time, will appear at the assembly hall of the Grammar School in a benefit entertainment for the school library on Friday evening, Feb. 24. Mr. Newton is second to none as an entertainer and can amuse his hearers for any length of time, and all who have heard him here in the past will be sure to be present at this occasion. Assembly hall should be filled next Friday night, as the affair merits the support of every citizen of Redwood.

Loses Foot in a Saw Mill.

Simon Boos, formerly of this city, received injuries at Comptche, Mendocino county, on the 8th instant which will cripple him for life. Boos was working in a lumber mill and fell on the saw, his leg being cut off just above the ankle. He was taken to a Mendocino City hospital, where it was at first thought that the accident would prove fatal. His condition has improved, however, and it is now thought that he may recover. The letter apprising J. J. Read, financial secretary of the Foresters of America, of the accident said that the family of Boos was in a destitute condition. The matter will be taken up by Court Madrone, of which he is a member, and relief will be immediately sent him.

The company is said to be in no way responsible for the accident, so it is not probable that the unfortunate young man will receive any damages.

A Pie Thief Visits J. B. Folger's Place—Trying to Rid Their Place of Squirrels.

WOODSIDE, February 17.—Some unknown person broke into the superintendent's house on the J. A. Folger place early Thursday morning and removed a number of pies, and was in the act of going through the superintendent's pockets when he was discovered. In his haste to get out of the building he stumbled over some chairs and made so much noise that everyone in the house was awakened. Constable Cronk and his deputy, C. Hill, were soon on the scene, but were unable to capture the burglar.

The lessees of the Brown & Ross tract are endeavoring to rid their place of squirrels, which have become very thick of late. People who value their dogs at anything had better heed this warning, else there may be some dead dogs as well as squirrels.

N. Hansen has been appointed deputy poundmaster for this vicinity. Some of our good citizens who think our public highways are public pasturage will kindly take notice.

George McArthur lingered long in the classic shades of Redwood City last Saturday.

Mrs. Aug. Bracker of San Francisco is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mathiesen, for a few days.

E. F. Preston and party drove through this valley with their automobile the first of the week.

We feel very thankful to our friends who kindly remembered us on St. Valentine's Day.

Mrs. J. O. Kettlewell of St. Helena is the guest of her father, N. Hansen, at Oak Hill Farm.

WOODSIDE, February 12.—Hugh McArthur was on the sick list the first of the week, but the last reports say he is convalescent again.

Edward Hallet and Miss Maggie Mever of this place were quietly married by the Rev. Edward Brown last Wednesday in San Francisco. After a brief honeymoon to the former's home in King City the happy couple will return to this place, where they will make their future home. The groom is a trusted employe of J. A. Folger, and a very popular young man. The bride was born and raised in this place, is accomplished and enjoys a wide circle of friends. The best wishes of all are extended to the happy couple.

M. Ayer, the well known fruit grower of Mountain View, and wife, called on friends and relatives here last Sunday.

Mrs. H. Beatty and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wright, have gone on a month's pleasure trip to the Tahiti Islands.

We are enjoying spring-like weather, something out of the ordinary.

Some Fiend At Work.

Adequate words cannot be expressed in describing the despicable wretch who is now living in our midst. The brute, in human form, is no less a personage than a dog poisoner. During the last three weeks several valuable canines have been poisoned, among which were two dogs belonging to F. W. Glennan, one to Alfonze Ligouri and one to Ernest Werder. The case of Mr. Werder's dog is arousing much talk about town. On Sunday evening Henry Werder was returning from a hunting trip. On arriving in front of the Courthouse his dog spied three nic-nacs on the sidewalk, and before his master could stop him he ate one. The cake, which had been dropped by some human fiend, contained such a deadly poison that it caused death almost immediately. The other cakes were then examined and were found to be covered with fine white powder. Mr. Werder has offered $50 for the arrest and conviction of the poisoner.

This case is especially aggravated, as it would not have been strange if some child had picked up the cakes and eaten them. Perhaps had the dog not been the first to see the nic-nacs three homes in Redwood might now be mourning the loss of little ones. Every effort should be made to find the fiend and punish him as he deserves.

Death of an Old Settler.

Mrs. M. C. Koch, who died in Bakersfield this week and was buried here Tuesday, was one of the old settlers of Redwood City. With her husband Frederick Koch, she came here when the town was young. For a number of years she lived in what was called the "Tank House," on the present site of John Fehrn's shaving parlors. Her husband conducted a shoe shop in the front part of the building while they resided in the rear. The place derived its name from the fact that when the old American House, which was burned in 1879, was in use the building was used as a tank house. After the fire the tank was removed and converted into a residence. Mrs. Koch moved to Bakersfield twenty-five years ago to keep house for her son-in-law. She was laid beside her husband in Union Cemetery.

When a woman's skirts do a good stunt of frou-frouing, of course everybody rubbers.

TOWN COUNCIL.

Last of the New Water Pipe Now on the Way From the East.

Plans for improving the streets of Redwood City are fast taking definite shape, and it will not be long before actual work begins. Ten car loads of water pipe for the city mains are already speeding across the continent, and by the 24th of the present month the entire shipment of pipe, consisting of twenty-two carloads, will have arrived. This means that within less than four months from the present writing 31,000 feet of water pipe will be laid to replace the old system which has been in use over twenty-five years, and which of late has proven a source of burdensome expense to the taxpayers of the town.

At a special meeting of the Town Council Monday evening it was decided to advertise for bids for the laying of the pipe, bids to be opened Monday, March 6th. The bidders must specify a price for laying per lineal foot, and the work is to be completed within ninety days from the letting of the contract. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $1000, and the successful bidder will be required to give bond to the amount of $3000.

The Board decided to purchase of J. H. Hatch of San Mateo the triangular piece of land at the junction of Mound street and Railroad avenue for the sum of $100. The lot in question has a frontage of 200 feet on Mound street, and is an admirable location for a park. The purchase is to be made within ten days.

By a vote of three to two the Board revoked the privilege given to Mr. Rodgers to remove his saloon from its present location on Bridge street to the lot opposite the depot.

Surveyor Gilbert was ordered to prepare plans for a curb along First, Washington and Jefferson streets, extending from the yards of the Tacoma Mill Company to the county road on the Island.

Trustee Walker suggested that specifications for the asphalt streets be prepared as soon as possible, so that the work may be begun immediately upon completion of the work on the water mains.

Street Superintendent Dickey called the Board's attention to the faulty condition of the sidewalk in front of the Ford property on Fourth street, and also to the dangerous condition of the railroad company's bridge at what is commonly known as Lovers' Lane. Action was deferred until the next meeting of the Board.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses were issued from the Clerk's office since the first of February: Albert J. Hocking of San Francisco and Helen Roddatz of Lamar, Missouri; Gaudalupe Espinoza of Mayfield, and Gertrude Crandall of Redwood City; William L. Birch and Victoria L. Wright, both of San Francisco; Fred B. Hughts and Estella M. Powell both of San Francisco; Walter Lea Johnstone and Ella Sophia Hutchinson, both of San Mateo; Eugene Ferrari and Emma Reardon, both of San Francisco.

Shortening Train Time.

The Southern Pacific "Coast Line Limited" trains Nos. 21 and 22, between San Francisco and Los Angeles, will shortlybe so arranged as to make the trip in half an hour less than at present, leaving each terminus at 8 a. m. and arriving at their destinations at 10 p. m., the time being thus cut to fourteen hours. There will be no stops north of San Jose, but probably an additional train will leave the Garden City at 7:45 p. m. and run through to San Francisco.

Elect Officers.

The junior class of Sequoia High School has elected the following officers for the term: Miss Clark, president; Theodore Clack, vice president; Marian Foster, Secretary. The new officers will give a dance in the Alhambra on March 4th.

Farmers, Attention.

H. H. Davis of the Bello Vista ranch has purchased a fine imported French stallion that will be exhibited to the farmers here next week.

A Home Wedding.

Arthur Elvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Elvin of this place, was married in Oakland Wednesday to Miss Charlotte E. Keller of that city. Mr. Elvin until his departure from Redwood some three years ago was one of the most popular young men of our town. He is a carpenter by occupation and a member of several of our fraternal organizations. His friends here wish Mr. Elvin many happy years of married life.

The following account of the wedding is taken from Friday's Chronicle:

The marriage of Miss Charlotte Keller and Arthur Elvin was solemnized at noon yesterday at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. M. L. Berger of Hanover avenue, only the immediate family connections witnessing the simple service, which was read by Rev. M. L. Berger, the bride's uncle. The house carried an artistic decoration of pink carnations, quantities of the fragrant blossoms forming an effective setting for the affair. The bridal gown was an elaborate confection of pearl-colored silk with lace, and an informal breakfast followed the ceremony, after which the young people departed on a brief honeymoon trip, and will make their home across the bay, where Mr. Elvin is engaged in business.

Got Off Light.

J. Joseph Hara, who has been accused of an assault with a deadly weapon committed last month in Pescadero, was before a jury in the Superior Court yesterday. The evidence on the part of the prosecution went to show that Hara attempted to cut one Andrew Piaco with a knife. The testimony on the part of Hara was to the effect that Piaco and Hara had some difficulty over an account, and when they were attempting to settle the matter the former struck the latter and knocked him down. Hara then got up and followed Piaco with a knife. As he was after him Hara was struck by a man by the name of Bennett, who was the main witness for the prosecution. The evidence was conflicting. The case was argued and submitted to the jury, who were out a considerable length of time and finally agreed upon simple assault, with the recommendation of mercy. The defendant waived time of sentence, whereupon the Court sentenced him to forty days in the County Jail,

Applied for Letters.

Mary E. Yslas has applied for letters of administration upon the estate of Jacob Fox who died intestate in Story County, Nevada, in 1895. The estate consists of lot 176 in the San Mateo Homestead Association valued at $500. The only heir-at-law is the petitioner, Mary E. Yslas, who was a daughter of the deceased. Mr. Fox at one time conducted a blacksmith shop in Redwood City.

MENLO PARK OCCURRENCES

Paragraphs, Personal and Otherwise, From the Village of Beautiful Homes.

Lighting of the Streets Discussed at an Enthusiastic Meeting on Monday Night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Marcus will move here from the St. Francis Hotel on the 1st of March.

The Coryells and Hopkins are expected down from San Francisco on the first of the month for the summer.

L. H. Rodgers has disposed of lots 2 27, 28, in block 8 at University Heights to George T. Jamison.

J. J. Morris of Palo Alto has sold eight lots across the road from Holy Cross Cemetery to Jesse Barba for $800.

The rainfall for the season, including the present storm, has been 10.75 inches as against 7.54 inches at this time last year.

Frank Cooley has disposed of thirty-two acres of his ranch at Ravenswood to May C. Gammon of Lodi who will conduct an up-to-date dairy.

Otto Heffner, who has been chief gardener for M. Lynch for the past two years, has resigned to accept a position at the Lewis and Clark Exposition grounds at Portland, Oregon.

Mrs. Jane Stanford and her secretary Miss Berner sailed Wednesday for Honolulu, where Mrs. Stanford has been ordered by her physician.

There is a rumor to the effect that the time schedule of the Southern Pacific Company will be changed to-morrow. However, the local agent knows nothing of the proposed change.

H. McLean has been engaged to take charge of James L. Flood's new greenhouses. He resigned the position of assistant superintendent of Mount Olivet Cemetery to accept the place here.

J. E. Moloney recovered the horse and buggy taken from him some weeks ago by an unknown man. The rig was found in Beatty's livery stable in San Francisco by Deputy Sheriff Ray Starbird of San Jose.

Charles Moore, formerly of Menlo Park, has sold his residence on the corner of Forest avenue and Emerson street, Palo Alto, for a handsome figure. Mr. Moore intends to buy acreage property in the vicinity of Mayfield.

Mrs. S. Sterns, whose husband is a wealthy merchant of San Francisco, was here during the week looking for a residence for the summer. She was shown the Eyre, Mills, and Donohoe, places and may decide to rent one of them.

Grand Trustee Ryan paid an official visit to Menlo Parlor, N. S. G. W. Thursday evening. After the meeting a smoker was held in honor of Mr. Ryan. Large delegations were present from Mountain View, Palo Alto, and other places.

Jack Flemming, the erstwhile politician, met with a painful accident last Monday while leading George Meekin's horse to pasture. The animal playfully turned and kicked him on the abdomen painfully injured Flemming. He was taken to the county hospital on Wednesday. His injuries are not considered serious.

Mrs. Kelly, the sister of Mrs. P. J. Maloney of this town, was buried in Holy Cross cemetery Tuesday. She passed away in San Francisco. Mrs. Kelly was among the early settlers of San Mateo County and for a number of years before taking up her residence in the metropolis had resided in Redwood City.

Selby, Rodgers & Co. have rented the room in the Menlo Park Hotel formerly occupied as a barber shop and will fit it up as a real estate office. Roy W. Cloud of Redwood City will be the company's local agent and will have full charge of the office. The firm will handle several subdivisions in this vicinity and Fair Oaks and intend to do a brisk business during the coming summer.

James Fitzgerald has designed a model of the battleship Oregon and it is on exhibition in the show windows of the Palo Alto Hardware Company and has created much interest among the people of Palo Alto. It is made of hardware from the stock and with its electric lights resembles the real Oregon that played havoc with the Spanish navy. The Palo Alto papers have printed lengthy articles sounding the praises of young Fitzgerald.

Charles Taylor who is with a surveying party that is working for the Western Pacific Railroad Company in the Sierras has been promoted twice within the last year and now holds a responsible position. Young Taylor is a graduate of the Sequoia High School at Redwood City and for nearly three years attended Stanford. He is an exceptionally bright young man and is destined to make his mark as a civil engineer. Civil engineering was his major at Stanford.

A young man of Menlo Park started to church the other night with his girl. They were a little late, and the young man hurriedly grabbed his overcoat from a hook in the hallway and carried it on his arm to the church. Pushing his way up toward the front he threw his overcoat across the back of the pew, and for the first time discovered that he had carried a white skirt along with it. He did not enjoy the church services very much that evening, but after this he will light a match and carefully examine everything in his arms before he leaves the house.

The citizens held an enthusiastic meeting in Duff & Doyle hall Monday night to discuss the matter of lighting the town. James T. O'Keefe was chosen chairman, and Jas. T. Lynch secretary. Mr. Nippert, representing the United Gas and Electric Company, was present and explained the cost of installing a system of eleven 16-candle-power lights. He explained that the amount to be raised would be $203 and a monthly payment of $9. After much discussion a committee of business men was appointed to solicit funds and to adopt a plan for lighting the town. The committee is as follows: John MacBain, George Meekins, J. H. O'Keefe, Jas. R. Doyle and Thomas Fitzgerald. A meeting was held Tuesday night and the committee agreed to recommend to a general meeting to be held this evening that two 32-candle-power lamps be put at the Duff & Doyle, J. H. O'Keefe, Oak Grove Villa and Wells-Fargo corners; also one at Thomas Wards' and at the Church of the Nativity. The village is sorely in need of lights, and everyone should give this worthy cause hearty support.

A fine line of costumes for the masquerade ball will be on exhibition to-day in the Odd Fellows' hall.

REAPED AS HE SOWED.

The Crop That Was Raised by Meissonier's Clever Gardener.

Meissonier, like many other celebrities, had a passon for gardening. His gardener, an accomplished botanist, knew to perfection the seeds of every plant, and his master had often tried in vain to throw him off his guard.

"This time I have him," the artist remarked to a party of friends at the dinner table. And he showed them a packet containing the dried roe of a herring. He then sent for the gardener.

"Do you know this seed?" Meissonier inquired.

The gardener carefully scrutinized the grains.

"Why not?" he said at last. "They are the seeds of the 'Polpus finsamus,' a very rare tropical plant."

"How long will they be coming up?" Meissonier asked, with a chuckle of suppressed exultation.

"About a fortnight," was the reply.

Two weeks later the guests were again assembled at Meissonier's table, and after dinner the gardener was announced.

"M. Meissonier," the man said, "the seed has just come up."

"Ah, you surprise me!" the artist exclaimed as he rose and led the way into the garden to examine the botanical phenomenon.

The gardener lifted a glass shade and disclosed to view a small bed with three rows of pickled herrings' heads peeping out of the earth. Everybody laughed. Meissonier dismissed the gardener on the spot, but took him on again next day.

VELOCITY OF ELECTRICITY.

Spark and Mirror Method by Which It Was Determined.

To determine the velocity of electricity a "spark board" was fitted with six insulated knobs in a straight line. The distance from 1 to 2 was the tenth of an inch, between 2 and 3 was a quarter of a mile of insulated wire, from 3 to 4 was again the tenth of an inch, between 4 and 5 was another quarter of a mile of wire, and between 5 and 6 was once more the tenth of an inch.

When the jar was discharged there were three sparks, one from 1 to 2, one from 3 to 4 and one from 5 to 6. It was found by viewing these in a rapidly revolving mirror that the image of the spark between 3 and 4, which could only be formed after the wire coils had been traversed, lagged a little behind the other two.

This displacement of the image was then measured, and as the velocity of the mirror was known the velocity of the electrical discharge was determined as 288,000 miles a second.

A Case of Too Much Children.

In a volume of reminiscences a very funny story is told of the late Bishop Bloomfield, who, having a family by his first wife, married a second time. This Mrs. Bloomfield was a widow, with a brood of her own, and in due course a third family arrived on the scene. One day the bishop was disturbed by his wife running into his study in a great state of excitement. "What is it, dear?" he testily inquired. "Oh, bishop!" was her agonized reply. "Quick, quick! There's not a moment to lose! Your children are siding with my children and are murdering our children!"

RELIGIOUS TATTOOING.

A Custom That Is In Vogue In One Part of Italy.

In the "vanity" section of a museum at Florence there is an interesting collection of blocks used for what is called "religious tattooing" among Italian peasants of the district inclosed between the Abruzzi, Umbria and the Adriatic.

Peasants in these parts at work with shirt sleeves rolled up display a Christian symbol of some sort or a text tattooed in blue ink on their brown skin. This has been imprinted on the occasion of some special festival.

A wooden block is pressed upon the tightly drawn skin to mark the outlines of the design. This is then punctured, and a blue ink is rubbed into the wounds, which usually heal in about twenty-four hours. The custom, which is essentially Christian, is in commemoration of the branding of St. Francis, who founded a monastery close to Loretto.—London Telegraph.
